

Akrotiri School

Friday Feeling

#033

Friday 11 June

I hope you had an enjoyable half term and managed to make the most of the easing restrictions. It would seem that many people managed to get away from the station and enjoy Cyprus – getting back into the routines of school has certainly required resilience and early nights! But, what a tremendous first week back it has been. Members of the SLT have been exploring learning with teachers across the school and representatives from the SGC have been into school for a training/update session on data, progress and tracking. As an outcome, we will be promoting how we currently go about collecting and using data in school so that you have a secure understanding of the processes in place.

We have seen great learning from children in Y2 during English, learning about the 5-7-5 syllables in Haiku poems and also getting to grips with money in maths. FS1 children have been exploring sounds in their environment and Y4 were looking further afield at North America; putting their geography skills and knowledge to the test! I have also seen some great poetry which will be put forward for the CBF poetry competition later this month. Good luck everyone!

Along with Y6, I am delighted that we have been able to facilitate a residential this year. The programme looks fantastic and I know the children are very excited about the opportunity. We look forward to hearing about the adventures on land and sea next week.

Finally, as we approach the opening weekend of the delayed UEFA Euro 2020, good luck with whoever you are supporting. Cymru am byth 😊

Have a wonderful weekend,

Ben Turner
