Friday Feeling

#21

Friday 28 February 2020

Shock, horror and then determination to solve the mystery has kept Y2 on their toes this week. With the class mascots having 'escaped' from school a station-wide hunt has ensued. From missing posters to interviews on BFBS, children have set about their own investigation. Sporadic clues have helped them get closer to finding out the truth as they analyse, hypothesise and scrutinise the evidence. Watch this space for the outcome!

It has been wonderful to see so many Y1 parents in this week engaging with phonics activities alongside their children. The buzz of learning has been brilliant and I know all staff have been overwhelmed by the positive response. Similarly, Y2 showed off their STEM learning by sharing and engaging in investigations with their parents too. It was wonderful to see the support, excitement and positive outcomes. Well done to the KS1 team and all those who supported the tremendous opportunities.

Finally, with an ongoing commitment to reviewing our communication channels please could I request that if you change your contact details (eg mobile phone numbers), you update the school via the main office. This is primarily so that if we need to contact you in case of an emergency that we are able to do so. Thank you for your understanding.

Have a wonderful weekend.
